

ABOUT US

We are a Mexican company focused on the exportation and importation of produce in the United States.

With the growing demand of fresh produce from Mexico to the United States, 15 years ago we decided to meet that demand and expand our business into the United States. With our experience and expertise in production and business, the company grew at a swift pace. Anavale quickly began to form an important part of the produce community.

In the last four years we have revamped and improved our business model, reaching a sustainable yearly growth of 30%.

We continue to strive for new partnerships and reinforce our work with current growers to ensure quality, volume, variety, and availability. As of now we count with more than 15 products, which enable us to diversify.

Our operations have become one of the most efficient in the RGV because of our effective processes. We continue to invest in technology and training for our employees, so that in return we can offer the best service available. This enables us to have the best safety procedures, certifications, transportation, and storage.

All of this gives Anavale its credibility and reliability with our clients for a 100% satisfactory experience.
